Chief's Inspection Reveals Lack of Proper Exits in Three Bethel Schools

On Monday, February 9, 1959, the elementary school buildings in Bethel were inspected by Roderick S. McMillin, Fire Chief.

Bethel Primary School

The conditions in this school building were the gravest of all. The fire exits are most inadequate. From the basement and lunchroom to the main entrance on the first floor there are two enclosed stairways. In the event of an emergency the only other exit from the basement is through the boiler room and up through a bulkhead. Both doors of this bulkhead open inwards. It is conceivable that the children could panic, crowd and push against the doors thereby making it impossible to open the doors from either side.

On the main floor of this building there is only one exit besides the main entrance, this being one small door leading through the cloakroom. The only exit available for the rooms of Mrs. Bisbee and Mrs. Godwin is into the main hall to the main entrance.

It was learned that fire drills are infrequent. Also, inadequate in this school building is the condition of the fire extinguishers. They are of the old type and some were found not to be in working order.

It is recommended that the doors of the bulkhead in the basement be changed to open outwards. That some arrangement be made for an exit to be available for the two classrooms which now open only into the main hall and that those fire extinguishers which do not work be replaced and additional ones be secured for more adequate protection. It is further recommended that there should be more frequent fire drills. The conditions in this school should be corrected without further delay.

East Bethel School

It was found that there is only one exit in this school but it is believed that the windows are low enough so that they could be used in an emergency. The oil stove in this school was reported to have flooded several times and it has become carboned. This stove was installed thirteen years ago and it has been recommended by oil burner servicemen that it should be replaced.

South Bethel School

This school, too, has only one exit but the windows in this building are low and the children could use these if need be.

West Bethel School

This school now has an exit besides the main entrance. It is recommended that a railing should be attached to the exit platform to prevent accidents of children falling off.

Crescent Park School

This building was found to be in perfect condition with respect to fire protection. Principal Helms and the teachers are to be commended for the excellent evacuation plan they have for fire drills. A surprise fire drill was called during the fire chief's visit to the school and the building was cleared in thirty-five seconds.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Two meetings have been held by the Budget Committee, with one more scheduled for the latter part of the month. At the present time the total budget for 1959 is $190,205.00 as compared to $183,981.00 for 1958. $20,000 was used from surplus to reduce the 1958 budget to $163,981 to be appropriated by taxation. This year there is $15,000 available which will leave $175,205 to be appropriated. This is $11,221 more than 1958. It is anticipated that there will be an increase in excess of $100,000 in the assessed valuation. If the budget is adopted at the annual town meeting as approved by the Budget Committee, the tax rate will be about .029 as compared to .0275 for 1958. From information received the county tax will be about $900.00 less than last year.

The total increase over last year is $11,224.00 of which $55 or $9,500.00 is in the school budget. There is an increase of $1,400.00 for sewers, which is required to construct manholes on the streets leading into the intersection by the railroad bridge in conjunction with the anticipated rebuilding of the railroad bridge and approaches. As there are no manholes in this area and the street level is to be raised several feet it is only practical to have adequate manholes in order to have access in case of plugged sewer lines.

Increases are recommended in the following articles: Police $250, Fire Dept. $500, Street Lights $50, Liability Insurance $50, Workers Compensation $200, Side-walk & Drains $500, Social Security $200, Insect Control $50, and Bethel Airport $250.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

At the regular meeting of Sunset Rebekah Lodge on Monday evening, Feb. 10, there will be a game and a social party. Each member is to bring a comic Valentine.

The monthly meeting of the W. C. C. S. will be held Thursday, Feb. 19, at the home of Mrs. Abbie Brown. There will be a guest speaker from Cape Elizabeth, Sarah Morgan in charge of the program.

Those living in the area served by the Bethel fire department are reminded that calls for the fire alarm should be dialed Vandyke 4-2211. Confusion has resulted several times lately when calls have been made to the fire department and others. The correct number is listed under Bethel Town of Fire Alarm Tied Network.

"You Are Doing Something Yourself to Help Yourself," was the keynote to the splendid address delivered by Halsey Smith, President of the Casco Bank and Trust Company at the first annual meeting of the Bethel Area Development Corporation held on Tuesday, Feb. 10, at the West Parish Congregational Church.

At the business meeting which preceded Mr. Smith's address more than ninety residents of the area heard encouraging annual reports from the president, secretary and treasurer, and elected Howard W. ## Versatile House Design From Small Homes Guide

Activities Area

Versatility of plan is one of the main selling features in this house planned for the activities of a large family. The hobby area has limitless possibilities. Assign areas according to the size and interests of the family. It can be a large recreation room, an extra bedroom, even two bedrooms. Part of it can become a library, the other section a combination den and guest room. Steak grill makes the area a good place for casual parties and meals.

Kitchen is large enough for a breakfast table and chairs, while a full dining room is also included in the plan. Bath with shower stall is placed off the back entrance so the children (and adults) can clean up after indoor play. Two linen closets are built in, one in the bathroom, another in the hall. Closet in dining room can be utilized for table linens, china, or for whatever purpose the housewife sees fit. Note large corner windows in the front bedroom.

Total area of the house is 1,810 sq. ft. The design by Architect Elmer Gylleck is also available in a basementless version. Information on blueprints and their cost can be obtained by writing to Small Homes Guide, 82 W. Washington, Chicago 2, Illinois.

Which Industry Now Betters the Living of 3 Out of 4 Maine Families?

... Here Are Some Surprising Facts About The Trading Stamp Industry

So far, whenever our nation's economy has needed expansion, a new industry has sprung up to help the country go ahead.

The automobile industry, employing millions, was followed closely by the development of radio and radio broadcasting to make more millions of jobs. Then came the airplane industry, air conditioning, plastics, television, frozen foods, to change our lives more.

The trading stamp industry, while not new, belongs to this expansion group and has been one of the latest proving of more than 3 out of 4 Maine families who are trading stamps.

Obviously, an industry affecting such a large proportion of Maine's population must help far-reaching benefits to Maine's economy. As it does. In 1957 the trading stamp industry bought $9,728,000 worth of products from Maine manufacturers. In one way or another, it provided employment for 849 Maine people in many different industries.

The people in the trading stamp industry, in merchandise and transportation stores, warehouses and transportation and all the activities that go on within it are interrelated economically everywhere within our state.

Thus it seems plain that the trading stamp industry along with the 194,000 Maine women it serves has become like other expansion industries, a living, vital segment of Maine's economy.

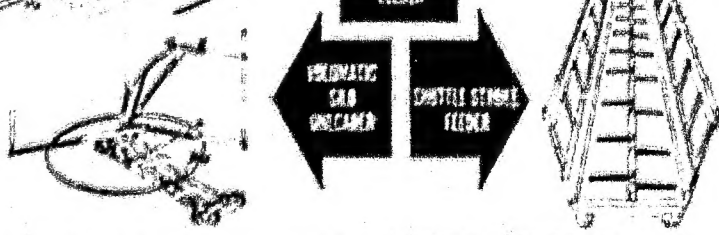

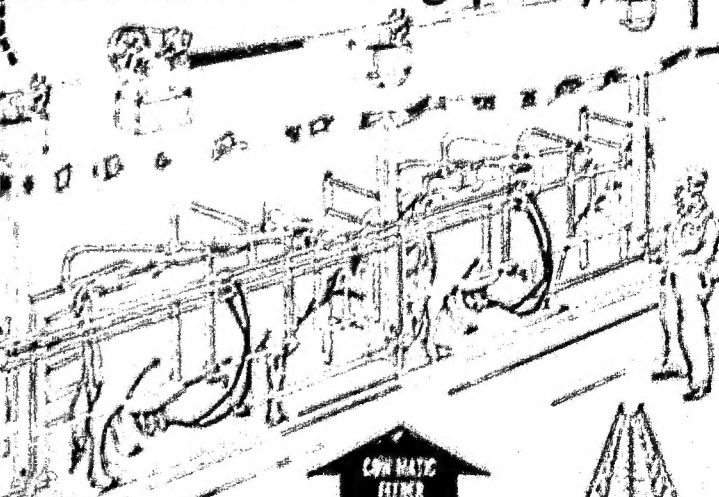

This message is published on the initiative of the OREGON Chipper Chain Company, a company that has been a part of the trading stamp industry since 1957.

ONE TO GROW ON

By Fred V. Hein, Ph.D., Consultant in Health and Fitness, Bureau of Health Education, American Medical Association.

"One To Grow On" is a happy birthday thought. But no one food can supply all the nutrients youngsters need for healthy growth. For proper development boys and girls need foods that build and repair tissues, that supply energy, foods that furnish each of the vitamins and minerals. It takes plenty of all kinds of good foods to do the job. And during growing years, plenty is the key word.

Dr. Fred V. Hein

Johnny is shooting up like a weed," you say. And that's not idle talk. Johnny, or Mary for that matter, may grow several inches in a few months.

It takes plenty of the protein foods — meat, fish, poultry, eggs, cereals, milk, cheese — to provide all the building blocks (amino acids) needed for healthy development. This need is greatest, of course, in rapid growth periods.

Rickets is a deficiency disease in which bones fail to develop proper strength and shape. But doctors seldom see a case of rickets today. That's chiefly because boys and girls now have fortified milk to drink. Milk is their best source of calcium, which along with the vitamin D in fortified milk helps to ward off this bone-warping disease. As nearly everyone knows, milk is also a rich source of protein.

An apple a day may not keep the doctor away for Johnny and Mary. But fruits and vegetables are a vital part of their diets. Vitamin C for example, is often in short supply among children. Citrus fruits or other C-rich foods such as tomatoes, green peppers, cabbage, or berries each day can step up this intake to proper levels. Dark green and deep yellow vegetables are important for vitamin A. And don't forget the starchy vegetables to help caloric requirements. Healthy children require a good example of perpetual motion. Their constant and vigorous activity demands plenty of the carbohydrates found in bread, cereals, potatoes and the like. Many of these foods, contrary to popular notion, furnish considerable good-quality protein as well. Enrichment of bread and other cereal products assures valuable B vitamins and iron.

In addition, children need a certain amount of fat. Milk, eggs, and even lean meat have more than you think. Ice cream and other desserts furnish some. And who wants to eat even the best bread or rolls without butter or fortified margarine. On sweets he realizes, eaten as dessert they fulfill a need. For dental reasons, it's good to brush teeth immediately afterwards. When that's impossible, a "swish and swallow" will help.

General dietary advice cannot be applied to all children. Obesity may be due to overeating, underactivity, or other problems. A seemingly undernourished child may be only thin, or he may have some underlying health problem. In either case medical help is needed to determine causes.

But for the average child here's your quick "run-down" on foods for good growth. Meat types — 2 or more portions each day; bread or cereal — 4 or more portions; fruits and vegetables — 4 or more portions. Watch C, check green and yellow, potatoes too; fats — depending on needs; sweets — as desserts, watch the heavy child; special problems — you and your doctor.

Create in me a clean heart,
O God, and renew a right spirit within me. Cast me not away from Thy holy presence.
—(Psalm 51:10-11.)

It is only when we have gained, through devout prayer, our Father's everlasting mercy, that we can gain also a clean heart and a right spirit. Then we will know His presence, enveloping and filling us, and find therein a strength superhuman, a peace beyond description.

DAIRYMEN JUDGING 12 FARMS THIS WEEK

Judging of the top 12 forage programs in Maine dairy farms is being conducted this week as part of the Green Pastures-in-Winter program. The 12 farms selected by committees of dairymen are in 12 counties throughout the State. Picking the top three this week for the New England judges to inspect next week are Chester Johnson, Hutter dairyman and 1955 Maine Green Pastures-in-Winter champion, Robert Hill, Grayburg dairyman and third-place 1954 winner, and Lacey Bingham of Auburn.

The 12 farms in contention are Haydon Farm, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Hansen, Gorham; Robert Pike, Gorham; Philip Andrews & Sons, Fryburg; Roland Hammond, Mechanic Falls; George Shaw, Gorham; Carl Wood, Cornville; Fred and Robert Foster, Cornville; Edmund Murray, Grayville; Ralph Smith, Hiram; John Ingraham & Sons, Cornville; Ralph Pearce & Son, Hugs; and Oakland Farms, Gardiner.

VA NEW LETTER

Veterans holding permanent GI life insurance don't need to surrender their policies for cash in order to raise money urgently needed during financial emergencies.

Veterans Administration said these veterans may borrow up to 44 percent of their policies' cash surrender value.

Although the action reduces the amount of protection for the veterans beneficiaries by the amount borrowed, it does leave the policy in force, VA explained.

One borrowed for cash, however, all protection under the insurance ceases forever, since the GI policy is cancelled and cannot be renewed or reinstated, the agency said.

Should a veteran borrow on his GI insurance and then die before repaying the loan to full, the outstanding indebtedness will be deducted from the policy proceeds before the latter is paid to the beneficiaries, VA pointed out.

For example, if a veteran dies while owing $500 on his $10,000 GI policy, the beneficiary would receive $9,500.

Annual interest on GI policy loans is charged at four percent on the unpaid balance and must be paid on or before the due date, VA stated.

LIFE LINES by Col. Ralph T. Miller of The Salvation Army

THE SECRET OF THE SERENE SPIRIT
A friend of mine knew Dwight L. Moody, the great evangelist of the last century. People were often puzzled to know what was the secret of this man, seemingly so limited in intellectual powers, but with a spiritual glow about him, the center of that great revival, which kindled all America and the British Isles.

How did he do it? He was obviously of little talent, not an eloquent speaker. There was nothing impressive about him.

But one summer, at Northfield, attending a summer conference near Moody's home, my friend learned the secret. He tells of getting up early one morning, to go for a walk up the hill, before breakfast. As he was climbing the hill, he met Mr. Moody on the way down from the summit.

"I'm glad to see you climbing the hill in the morning," he said. "Don't ever miss your chance for an hour of prayer in the morning. I wouldn't dare to begin my day without this hour of prayer on the hill-top."

Was that hour on the hill-top the secret of Dwight L. Moody's life? I think it was.

Are there any hill-top hours in your life?

As a generation we have gone wild over "Peace of Mind." Any book or magazine article promising it is sure of a ready sale. But we are neglecting the one place in which it is to be found.

There is a sentence in the Gospel story that puzzled me for a long time. "Great multitudes gathered to hear and to be healed of their infirmities." But He withdrew (Mark 6:5-16). Why should Jesus leave just when people most needed Him?

But if you read on, you will see He left the needy people that He might climb to the mountain top, and have His spiritual power renewed. Then He came back to heal.

Perhaps you and I need to do the same thing.

Unpaid interest is added to the outstanding amount of the loan. This would soon eat up the remaining cash value of the policy and the insurance protection would cease.

Repayment of the principal on GI policy loans may be made in amounts of $5 or any multiple thereof, and at any time before default in payment of premiums. The agency explained.

Loans can be made only on permanent GI insurance policies. GI term insurance has no loan value, VA added.

"Perhaps the best long-range solution (for real economic growth) is for every secondary or high school in the land to start making investments required for four years from grade nine through grade twelve," Vice White in The

STATE POLICE URGE FAMILIARITY WITH THE "SIGNS OF LIFE"

The State Police urge us to become familiar with the "Signs of Life"—the six basic sign shapes which will help to keep us—and all other motorists and pedestrians safe in traffic. Each of these six basic sign shapes has a distinctive type of message so that we can recognize them quickly and take immediate action.

These are the six basic sign shapes and the messages which each convey:

1. Eight sided, red with white lettering, means come to a full stop and be sure the way is clear before proceeding. The older signs yellow with black lettering, have the same meaning.

2. Triangle, yellow with black lettering, the newest of the standard signs. It requires a driver to yield—that is, slow down or stop—to give right of way to cross traffic at intersections.

3. Rectangular sign, white with black or other color lettering, state the laws, parking restrictions, speed limits, turning and passing regulations, etc. Obey these signs and the laws they represent.

4. Diamond shaped yellow signs warn of dangerous or unusual conditions ahead such as curves, side roads, intersections, hills, dips, bumps, school zones, etc. Use extra caution until the hazard is passed.

5. The Round yellow sign with X and 800 means just one thing—a highway-railway crossing is ahead. Be prepared to stop. Obey all protection devices, and be sure all tracks are clear before crossing.

The crossbuck is the traditional symbol at highway-railroad intersections. Alone or in combination with a bell, flashing lights, gates or other protection, it is there to warn you.

"Remember," the State Police concluded, "it is not enough to know these signs of life. If they are to protect us, we must obey them."

CONGRESSMAN OLIVER'S NEWSLETTER

The dust has finally settled and the long, hard work has begun. After the preliminary swearing-in ceremonies, the President's State of the Union and Budget messages, Congress has finally got down to business. I look for a long, lively session. Don't expect to get home before August.

I am counting on you people back home to provide me with legislative ideas. Of course, I do have some definite proposals in mind. First in order of priority will be an attempt to relieve the employment situation in the Biddeford-Sanford area. Everyone in Maine is unhappy when those who want to work can't find jobs.

Remember that I am here to serve you. I can get certain Government documents for your uses. I can also be of help in certain situations where the Federal Government is involved. In any case, try me. I will be happy to hear your views on any subject; just drop me a line.

Either write me here in Washington or my District Representative, Mr. Kenneth Curtis, Room 203, 76 Pearl Street, Portland, Maine. Ken plans to spend one afternoon each week in Rumford, Bath and Biddeford in order to serve you better. When and where he'll be, will be published in your local paper at a later date. If any of you are in Washington, please do not hesitate to drop in and see me. I am in Room 237 at the Old House Office Building.

or other protection, it is there to warn you.

WINTER WEARS ON

February is the shortest month of the year, but there are some seasons when it seems the longest. It is a time of gray and whites, a time of cold spells and thaws and periods of alternate advances and withdrawals. One day a man is certain he can see Spring in Year's eyes, and the next day he is certain that the worst of the winter lies ahead. Of course, if the weather's prediction is correct, we can weather winter by practically year or whether we shall wait until mid-March for the introduction to the new season.

This is the Moon of Hungry Foxes. The days glid grimly by. A cloudy, somber, second month is a severe test of man's patience when he is studying the seed catalog. February is usually a mixture of penetrating cold and sudden warmth, of low-lying clouds and bright, sunny days. The landscape is dried and stark; the snow-covered fields are granular and the snowbanks beside the roads are stained with dark slush.

But it is February. There are heartening days when the sun pulls into a deep blue sky and flocks of shaggy white clouds meander over the upstate meadows; there are days when the south wind loosens Winter's last chains and water drips from roofs. Then it is that a man's heart lifts and he can almost smell spring in the air as he patters around the barnyard.

There is a quiet brooding expectancy over the fields on mild temperature days. Twice in that annual cycle we label Year, Nature seems to pause and gather its forces for the great change ahead. In February, and again in August a man can feel the consolidation of power. It isn't spring yet; there are hard storms and bitter cold spells to come. But each day that passes brings us nearer the ever-old, but ever-new time of resurrection. Faith is the basic foundation of life and to him with faith, February is a time that brings nearer the miracle of spring.

A GOOD LEMON PIE

I like lemon pie. I have reached the age when I have to use discretion whether or not I want to. After a satisfying, hearty meal, some of us want a dessert on the light side. I tell Brancie when she has a super dessert dripping with calories, to go easy on the front course.

We ought to use more lemons. This healthful fruit probably originated in northwest India. I have read that some of the large trees in Sicily will ripen up to 3000 fruits in a year. The average size lemon contains about two ounces of juice.

This is what I call a doctored lemon pie and if you try it, I will be glad to hear what you think of it. You need three lemons, three eggs, three tablespoons sugar, one can condensed milk, one small box of vanilla wafers. Squeeze the lemons and add the grated rind of two lemons to the juice. Add the lemon juice to the well beaten eggs, and beat this liquid with the condensed milk.

Roll the vanilla wafers fine and press into a pie pan. Use a little melted butter or margarine if crumbs are too dry to press well. Add the filling. Cover the filling with a meringue made of the egg whites and three tablespoons of sugar.

Bake at 300 for 25 to 30 minutes until meringue is pleasantly browned. This is a flavorful pie and doesn't overload the tummy. I know you all have opinions—some of them firmly entrenched. But please chill this pie a while before serving it. A room temperature lemon pie is a first cousin to tepid soup.

TODAY'S Meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, February 12
Read Matthew 11:25-30.
God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. (John 3:16).

WHY do many of us wander through this life thinking, acting, talking like hollow men, misunderstanding and being misunderstood?

Why? Does God want us to be cars on a track leading nowhere? No. To be empty shells? No. We were put on this earth for a reason: To seek God—know Him—love Him—witness to Him. Where can we meet Him? In prayer, in God's Word, in other persons. How can we approach Him? Through Christ. Does God in Christ really love us—care about us? Yes. "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life." His words beckon: "Come unto me.... My yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

The yokes of this world are burdensome, but His yoke is a blessing to bear. An early saint, Bernard of Clairvaux, says with so much truth:

"O blessed burden that makes all burdens light!
O blessed yoke that bears the bearer up!"
PRAYER: O God, Thou eternal love, give me grace and courage to take the yoke of Christ upon me and be lifted up with His peace in my soul. I ask it in the name of Him who died that I might live. Amen.
Thought For The Day
I will take upon me the "blessed yoke that bears the bearer up."

DID YOU KNOW...

THE OLDEST CHECK MADE OUT ON PAPER WAS DATED IN LONDON ON MARCH 14, 1666. ... (THE CHECK WAS FOR 100 POUNDS AND WAS SIGNED BY THE KING OF ENGLAND.)

A BIG IDEA FOR MAKING A PROFIT FOR FOREMAN BANKERS WAS TO OBTAIN FRANCHISES FROM A LOCAL BANK. TODAY HE SUGGESTS COULD BE SOLD FROM CONSIDERABLE.

TREE FARM TIPS

By Robert M. True, chairman Maine Tree Farm Committee. Have you taken a close look at your Tree Farm recently?

Changes are that here in New England it has white pine on it either occurring naturally or in a plantation.

Take a closer look. If your pines are from 3 to 4 inches in diameter and 15 to 25 feet in height it is time you started pruning the lower branches thus swapping knots for clear lumber. And swapping knots for clear lumber puts real money in your pocket when the logs go to market.

No two woodlots are alike and the costs of pruning and the returns to be expected vary. However, clear lumber has always commanded a premium price. And in recent years the advance in price of the higher grades has exceeded the advances in lower grades.

Your trees are taking up as much room on your Tree Farm growing average quality logs as those of high quality so why not concentrate on producing the higher quality?

Not every tree is suitable for pruning. In practice pruning should be confined to a limited number of trees, representing the best on the area and spaced so as to form the final stand. The number of trees per acre to be treated will vary. On some stands 100 crop trees per acre would be indicated. On others even 200 trees could be pruned effectively.

Both live and dead branches should be cut off. Dead branches may be cut any time but live branches are best cut during the fall and winter. Pruning done during the spring and early summer often results in the accidental stepping of bark from the trunk causing serious injury.

The height to which pruning may be done is governed largely by local market requirements. Large logs are commonly cut in lengths of 8, 12, or 16 feet. These lengths plus one foot for the stump and trimming are the lengths.

GOULD ACADEMY

"Pat's Takes 52-51 Thrilling Victory Over Gould"

Gould Academy dropped its final game of the year in a thriller that wasn't decided until the final second of the game. Lorry Cummings with 18 points was high point man of the game in a losing cause. Coach Berry started five seniors in this final game, and they put up a great fight, but fell five points behind before the regulars were inserted midway of the second period. With less than a minute to go the Huskies were out front 51-50, but could not hang onto the ball and finally lost the game.

Coach Bowhay's JV's were red-hot during the last two periods and ended the season with a 52-21 victory.

The remaining 23 girls will be competing in a variety of a junior varsity basketball game scheduled to be played in the afternoon. Although the Kents Hill girls have the advantage of competitive experience and playing on their home court, the games should be close and exciting. ### 4-H CLUB ENROLLMENT UP IN ALL MAINE COUNTIES

For the first time in recent history all counties in Maine have increased their 4-H club enrollments over that of a year ago, reports Kenneth C. Lovejoy, state 4-H club leader, Maine Extension Service. Lovejoy said it was the first time that he could recall when every one of the 16 county areas in Maine had increased their 4-H club member enrollments. On Jan. 20, Maine's 4-H enrollment had reached 8703. This was 1225 ahead of a year earlier when the enrollment was only 7478.

Most significant of all, said Lovejoy, was the fact that four counties have already achieved higher enrollments than they did for all of last year. These counties are Piscataquis, with 166 more 4-H projects than last year; Somerset, 23 more; Washington, 59 more and Northern Arctostook, 22 more. And there are about four more months of enrollment in 4-H clubs before the books are closed on the current year, Lovejoy added.

Increased enrollment in January totaled 8703. All counties reported new 4-H enrollments with Knox.

60 YEARS AGO

A familiar scene in the 1890's. In the foreground is Lisco A. Hall, uncle of Fred Hall, with one of his fine horses. At the left is the Ebenezer Richardson mill, which was dismantled by 1895. Remains of the mill were discovered when excavations were made for the Shell service station now operated by "Pete" Chapin on that location. Down Mechanic Street the houses are much as now with exception of added piazzas and the second story of the house in the center. At the right is the bandstand which was removed before the soldier's monument was erected in 1908.

SAVINGS IN USING SHORT FORM 1040A

That short Form 1040A you got in the mail will save you time and, eventually, money if you can use it.

The time saving, said Whitney L. Wheeler, Director of Internal Revenue for the Augusta District, will come from the greater ease and speed in filling out the card.

The money saving, he said, will accrue first to Uncle Sam and later to the taxpayers in the form of reduced expenses.

He explained the short cards can be processed at far less expense than it costs to process more complicated forms.

"The card you received in the mail," Mr. Wheeler said, "is pre-punched especially for your ease so that it may be processed faster and at even less cost. So, use it if you can."

Lincoln leading with 106 additional projects. Others with substantial increases during the month were Androscoggin-Sagadahoc, Franklin, Penobscot, Oxford, Central Arctostook, Waldo and Northern Arctostook Counties.

Counties with the largest 4-H enrollments were Penobscot, with 1,903, and Knox-Lincoln, Somerset, Cumberland, and Oxford. Lovejoy pointed out that local 4-H club leaders and county 4-H club agents deserve much credit for the fine increase in enrollment this year.

DIED In Magalloway Plantation, Feb. 6, Wesley N. Ferris, aged 86 years.

1959 MAINE HIGHWAY MAP BEING DISTRIBUTED

The 1959 Official Maine Highway Route Maps are now being distributed by the State Highway Commission. They are, or soon will be, available to all Maine State Highway Commission offices, Department of Economic Development, Publicity Bureau, chambers of commerce and travel bureaus.

The new map is designed to assist the motorist. Major highways are shown in red, other highways in black. The land area of the State is white; lakes, rivers and water are blue; bordering New Hampshire and Canada are in soft pink and green. State parks are printed in vivid green and cities of 10,000 and over in population are yellow. Around the border of the highway seven large scale inset maps help the motorist locate routes in the urban areas of Bangor, Bangor-Brewer, Saco-Biddeford, Waterville-Winslow, Portland-

South Portland, Auburn-Lewiston, and Augusta. A handy mileage index gives the distance between 40 Maine towns; and a legend gives the symbols for the Appalachian Trail, parks, camp sites, picnic area and game management areas.

On the reverse side 72 places of interest have been pinpointed. Surrounding this map is a border of colorful pictures showing typical scenes of Maine's activities. Also included on this side of the new highway map is informational material covering the geography of Maine, its industries, recreational features, and highway route mileage log with accumulative mileages.
